

Helen Ercolino, MA, LPC, RPT

Helen works with individuals, children, adolescents, and families who are facing adversity or difficult life situations; including, divorce, grief and loss, serious illness, adoption, and the effects of abuse and trauma. As a Play Therapist she has specialized training and expertise in helping children and their families. She is passionate in her commitment to restore hope and facilitate healing in her young clients and their families.

Helen has an MA in Counseling Psychology from Immaculata University. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor as well as a Registered Play Therapist. She is a certified Gestalt Therapist and is trained in EMDR (Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing) and The Neurosequential Model of Therapy (NMT). She received her NMT Training from the Child Trauma Academy under the direction of Dr. Bruce D. Perry.

Helen's background is in Human Resource Management where she served as Vice President of Human Resources for an international corporation for fifteen years before pursuing her interest in Counseling. "While helping others has always been my main focus, my decision to leave the corporate world and provide counseling full time followed a season of intense personal difficulty. I have experienced the fullness of God's grace and love in my life and I am committed to walking alongside others as they journey."

Helen has raised four children and now enjoys spending time with them, her fifteen grandchildren, and great-grandson.
