REVOLUTION
Women Rise. Evolve the Conversation of Mothering.

De brings to her work with women a 15-year history in leadership development, team-building, and facilitation of positive change, along with a lot of love and a passion for healthy, happy families.

Over the years, De has designed and facilitated events for all kinds of groups, from large corporate clients to local moms' clubs. She considers it a blessing and a privilege to create sacred space for people to gather in community, deepening relationships with one another as well as with oneself. De is a skilled facilitator and is comfortable speaking in spacious ballrooms as well as intimate church gatherings.

The heart of De's work is helping women to live and parent from the mindset of Sufficiency; believing themselves to be sufficient, able, and enough. A primary piece of her work is guiding mothers to discover the Truth of Who They Are, as designed by God.

De helps women create supportive, affirming bonds with THEMSELVES – first and foremost. She guides women in exploring their conversations with self, the way they relate with others, and the way they relate with circumstances in their lives – always pointing towards God. She offers tools, insight, and experiences for mothers to cultivate resilience, self-compassion, and an unwavering belief in oneself. For these are qualities that, when cultivated and thriving within the hearts and minds of every mother, will also take root in every child, and will indeed create a more gentle, compassionate, and loving society.

De presents her workshops and presentations through these venues:

- Churches and Christian Conferences
- Mothering / Parenting Organizations
- School Faculty and Administration
- Women's Leadership Associations
